Chapter Two: Sadako and the Thousand Paper Cranes

Question One: Sadako has a memory of a "million suns" flashing from when she was a baby. How do you think this memory is connected with the American military dropping of the atomic bomb on Hiroshima?

Question Two: What are some of the difficult sights and sounds Sadako encounters at the Peace Ceremony.

Question 3: Sadako is a superstitious child. What are some of the good/bad luck omens she mentions in the first two chapters and how does she believe these omens will bring her good/bad luck?
